ABOUT DALLAS COLLEGE

Since its launch as the Dallas County Community College District in 1965, Dallas College has grown from a single-building college campus to a network of seven campuses that has educated and trained more than 3 million people.

Dallas College is the single-largest provider of undergraduate education in Dallas County, with more than 160,000 credit and continuing education students enrolled last year. At any given time, 4% of the 2.5 million residents of Dallas County are enrolled at Dallas College.

OUR STUDENTS

Every year, between 8,000 to 10,000 Dallas College students transfer to universities to complete their studies.

Several Dallas College students have been named to All-USA Academic Teams by Phi Theta Kappa, the American Association of Community Colleges and USA Today.

75% of Dallas College students remain in Dallas County and 95% continue to live in Texas.

59% of Dallas College students are female and 41% are male.

DEMOGRAPHICS

Reflecting the demographics of Dallas County, the student population of Dallas College is diverse:
